FOR THE ADULTS:

The Weekend Away is a time for being together as a community. We come together on Shabbat to pray and find our spiritual selves. There are opportunities to learn and to study, be it Torah or Talmud, music or something creative, there is plenty on offer.

The Weekend Away has it all.

We're going away for the weekend... Again.

We have had three fantastic "Alyth Weekends Away". This special weekend has become so much a part of what we do at Alyth. We would love as many of our community as possible to join us for two days that will be inspiring, spiritual and the most fun we can have together as a community.

The weekend is a time for members of the community of all ages to be together to pray, to learn, to sing and to eat together. There is no better way to get to know one another than to share an experience or a meal together.

What's it all about?

The weekend is for everyone in the community - young or old, whether you love prayer or learning together, or whether it's something musical, historical or creative that you are interested in. There is definitely something for everyone

The "Weekend Away Team" which includes lay members, our Clergy team and Professionals, is already working hard to create an exciting and inspiring programme of sessions and activities that has breadth and depth - and something for everyone.

The weekend runs from Friday evening (in time for Kabbalat Shabbat) and will finish just before lunch on Sunday.

There will be time to be together in prayer and in song, time to chat to one another and even to go for a walk in the Oxfordshire countryside. You will experience a Shabbat filled with the spirit and care of Alyth, surrounded by family and friends.
